Mrs. Harding's Illness Halts Social Plans

Schedule for Winter Fetes and Entertainments in Washington Not To Be Arranged for Several Weeks

British Envoy on Visit

Minister of Switzerland Departs Hurdled for a Conference Trip to Berne

Special Dispatch to The Tribune
WASHINGTON, September 16.—Owing to the illness of Mrs. Harding, which cast a spell of gloom over the capital, it will be weeks before the social schedule is made up for the winter. Just now Washington, as well as the country at large, is so proud of Mrs. Harding's miraculous recovery that they care only for that.

Prince and Princess Bibesco Expect to Return Next Month

Prince and Princess Bibesco will not return to Washington until sometime next month, the Prince, who is Minister of Rumania to Washington, being in his own country on business, while Princess Bibesco is visiting her parents, the former Prime Minister of England and Mrs. Asquith, in London. With but a few days' warning the Minister of Switzerland and Mme. Peter hurried back to Washington, packed their trunks and sailed from New York Wednesday for Berne, where the minister goes to confer with his government. They have spent the greater part of the summer at Dark Harbor, Me., and with them were their sons, George Peter, who has returned to Harvard, and Marc Peter Jr., who will enter the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, Va.

Following the engagement of Mlle. Paule Dumont, younger daughter of the military attaché of the French Embassy and Mme. Dumont, to Captain George Thénault, aeronautic assistant to the military attaché, comes the announcement of the engagement of Senator Walter E. Edge to Miss Camilla Loyal Ashe Sewall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Sewall, of Bath, N. J.

Captain Thénault covered himself with glory—and medals—as commander of the famous Lafayette Escadrille, and the fact that he had received such a tremendous war record is evidenced in the fact that there is not a better tennis player in the corps. He was one of the team of diplomats to play several tournaments at the White House. Senator Edge is a widower, his wife, who was Miss Phillips, having died in 1915, leaving one son, who is now his grandmother, Mrs. Sara Lee Phillips. Senator Edge and his mother-in-law, who has had charge of his son ever since the death of Mrs. Edge, kept house on a large scale in Washington. The announcement of the engagement of Senator Edge's Washington friends carried the information that the wedding would take place in Bath in February.

Several weeks before the social season had a really well-organized rally in Washington, and perhaps before Congress opens in December for its next session. The British Ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes, took a look for a brief time and almost immediately repacked his luggage and went back to Dark Harbor to join Lady Geddes and their children to remain there until the end of the month. The Ambassador of Spain is returning within a few days, but Senora de Riano, who has been with him for a series of visits at resorts, will be absent until nearly the end of September. Just now she is with her aunts, the Misses Foster, at Hartford, and will probably make one or two other visits after leaving.

The Ambassador of Germany and Mrs. Wiedfield are getting settled and sinking but little of social life in America, and the Ambassador of Peru and Senora de Paez, who returned to Washington Tuesday after spending several weeks at Hot Springs, Va., and White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., are again in their apartments at Wardman Park Hotel.

Society Is Interested in Supreme Court Shifts

Changes on the Supreme Court bench are always interesting to society. Most of the Supreme Court members, and especially the chief justice of the bench, were known in Washington before going on the bench, and such is the case with the new Associate Justice and Mrs. George Sutherland, the former to replace Justice Clarke on the bench. Being on anything for life has been a wonderful mollifying effect and the Supreme Court bench is in a perfect social society. They entertain themselves all round once a year, go to the White House twice a year as the President's guests, and then to dinner—a staid and solemn affair—and then to a reception. The women stay at home on Mondays and each receives a few visits, generally women in official life, and especially the wives of members of the government judiciary. Mrs. Sutherland, having known the social set well, will undoubtedly mingle freely. The new Associate Justice and son-in-law in Washington in the person of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elphinstone.

An engagement is announced of Mrs. Bertha L. Luckey to Mr. A. S. Laydell, of Buffalo, the wedding to take place in November. Mr. Laydell, a widower six years old and has two grown children. He is a member of the more prominent clubs of Buffalo and New York. Mrs. Luckey, who was formerly Miss Bertha Crittenden, and she is the niece of former Governor George S. Boutwell of New York, who, after serving as the several terms of Congress, was elected to the New York State Assembly. Mrs. Luckey was a frequent visitor to Washington during those years. When nineteen years old she was married to Dr. Steed, of Oxford, England, who lived for three years.

Mrs. Lister to Return

Mrs. William H. Lister, of 375 Park Avenue, after an absence of five months in Europe, will sail for New York on the Aquitania and arrive on September 22.

Mrs. Bruce McLean Falconer

She was married on September 6 at Mamaroneck to Alderman Falconer, of this city. Mrs. Falconer was Miss Cora Steele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Steele.

Berkshire Guests To See Brilliant 'Follies,' October 14

Production Will Be Presented in Lenox Town Hall With Ball as a Closing Feature of the Event

Special Dispatch to The Tribune
BERKSHIRE HILLS, Mass., Sept. 16.—Miss Helen Frothingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Frothingham, has written the story in the moving picture film, "Sally," which is to be the main feature of the Lenox Follies of 1922. The picture was taken by Mr. William B. Osgood Field, with Lenox scenes as a background. Miss Edith M. Bensal is the heroine. Mr. William Elroy Sedgwick the hero and Mr. Frederick D. Haines the villain, and about thirty others are in the picture. The Follies are to be presented at the Lenox Town Hall on Saturday evening, October 14, with a brilliant ball as a closing feature. The entertainment will be for the benefit of Ascension Farm School.

A ball was given by Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Engle at the Wyantuck Golf Club in Great Barrington, Oct. 14, for Mr. Engle's sister, Miss Franklin Engle, whose marriage to Mr. Donald Stuart Gray will take place at St. James's Episcopal church on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Engle gave a large dinner before the ball. Others who entertained at dinner this week were Mrs. John Stewart McLennan, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Sedgwick, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Horton Lippincott and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Frothingham. The picturesque Ice Glen parade at Stockbridge, with its flaming torches and grotesque costumes, is scheduled for Monday night. It will close with a block dance in front of the Red Lion Inn. Among the arrivals at the Red Lion this week were Mrs. Andrew C. Zabriskie, Miss Zabriskie, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome A. Pock, of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Van Sinderen, of Tarrytown, N. Y., and Mrs. Frank H. Davis, Mr. Richard J. Davis, of Montclair, N. J.; Mrs. Linus L. Blanchard, Miss Elizabeth B. Blanchard, of Allenhurst, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Cobb, of Tarrytown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. George McCall and Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Yerkes, of Philadelphia.

Judge William B. Broomall, who at eighty was a daily driver over the Stockbridge golf course, and Mrs. Broomall left the Red Lion on Tuesday for Philadelphia. The picturesque Ice Glen parade at Stockbridge, with its flaming torches and grotesque costumes, is scheduled for Monday night. It will close with a block dance in front of the Red Lion Inn. Among the arrivals at the Red Lion this week were Mrs. Andrew C. Zabriskie, Miss Zabriskie, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome A. ## Kingston Visitors See Passing of Old Ferry

KINGSTON, Sept. 16.—The last week has seen the passing of the Skillypot, probably the only chain ferry in this section of the country, and up to this time it ceased operations the oldest ferryboat in active operation in the United States. The Skillypot has been in continuous service for many years plying Rondout Creek between Kingston and Sloatsburg. The name Skillypot is a corruption of an old Dutch word meaning tortoise.

For more than a quarter of a century there had been a demand from the residents of Ulster County for more adequate facilities in crossing the Rondout Creek, but it was not until the administration of Governor Smith that the present bridge, forming the connecting link in the great scenic highway between Albany and New York on the west bank of the Hudson River, was started. It was completed under the administration of Governor Miller and thrown open to traffic early in May.

Dance to Aid Church Given at Briarcliff

Teas and Bridge Parties Are Among Features of the Week

One of the most interesting events of the week at Briarcliff was the entertainment and dance given in the Lodge ballroom last evening for the benefit of All Saints' Episcopal Church of Briarcliff Manor. Mr. Chauncey M. Depue delivered an address, his subject being "Is the World Going to Smash?" Miss Anne Jago, contralto, sang a number of solos, being accompanied by Miss Helen G. Shafmeister, of Ossining.

Teas and bridge parties have also featured the week at Briarcliff, one of the most attractive being given by Mrs. George A. Baldwin last Monday afternoon. The guests included Colonel and Mrs. William S. Patten, Mr. and Mrs. George Legg, Mrs. Howard F. Chappell, Mrs. John Bradley Lord, Mrs. Henry Chubb, Mrs. John Carey, Mrs. W. S. Garvey, Mrs. C. H. Schlacks, Mrs. George A. Baldwin, Mrs. N. S. Meldrum, Mrs. Edward A. Morgan, Miss J. C. Campbell, Miss Mary Woods, Mrs. George W. Totten and the Misses Ida and Sadie Adams. Prizes were won by Mrs. C. H. Schlacks, Mrs. W. S. Garvey, and Mrs. G. W. Tuttle.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Furrow and Miss Florence V. Furrow, who returned from Europe on the Aquitania last week, are at the Lodge for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. Julia Chester Wells and Mrs. Samuel Keyser of New York, have returned to Briarcliff for an indefinite stay.

Mrs. Henry William Eaton gave a bridge party Thursday. Her guests were Mrs. Amanda F. Lauterbach, Mrs. Floyd C. Furrow, Mrs. E. B. Robinson, Mrs. George A. Baldwin, Mrs. John Bradley Lord, Mrs. George Legg, Miss Julia Chubb, Mrs. W. S. Garvey, Mrs. C. H. Schlacks, Mrs. W. S. Garvey, and Mrs. G. W. Tuttle.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hoffman, of Orange, N. J.; their daughter, the Misses Josephine and Marie; Mrs. Hoffman's mother, Mrs. George H. Hartford, and her niece, Miss U. E. Beaumont, all of whom spent the summer at the Essex and Sussex, Spring Lake, N. J., have arrived at the Lodge.
